

Janice Nath
Sales/Design Expert
Ambius – San Diego

I have worked with Janice over the last three years, and my experience with her just keeps getting better. Janice has been extremely flexible and has been able to take our visions and make them into reality. No matter what the project, I can simply give her some of my crazy ideas and she will make them happen, make them look good, and make them come in within budget. Over this time, she has really learned how we think, and sees things the way we do. She has become what we all expect from a company – a true partner that works with us to make the hotel more beautiful. Whether it is our everyday design or our holiday decoration, we can always count on Janice and Ambius.
